JFK Tells Labor To Back Exports Or Face Job Loss

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy told organized labor today it must back the effort to build up America's foreign trade or face the loss of jobs.

In an address prepared for a convention of the AFL-CIO—many of whose members have been less than enthusiastic about some phases of his proposals for freer world trade—Kennedy stated his view bluntly.

"In short, we are confronted with a very basic decision: Are we going to export our goods and crops—or are we going to export our capital and our job opportunities? Are we going to be the free world's greatest merchant trader—or merely its temporary wealthier banker?" is the way he put it.

Labor elements directly affected by rising imports have been presenting arguments in congressional hearings for even stiffer barriers against the incoming flow, in contrast to the administration plan for wider discretion to negotiate reciprocal concessions.

In almost direct response, Kennedy took the stand that buying must rise along with sales and asserted that "as our exports increase along with our imports, many more jobs will be created than lost."

At another point he stated his case this way: "If we cannot obtain new bargaining power to open up overseas markets, our export industries will wither—and American labor will lose jobs. If American businessmen cannot compete from here for the growing purchasing power of the European Common Market, many more will build their plants over there—and American labor will lose jobs."

Industry and management, he said, have a responsibility to increase efficiency and thus stabilize or reduce costs and prices. But labor also must help keep America competitive.

To that end, he said, labor "must demonstrate its responsibility in helping to keep over-all wage movements in line with increases in productivity."

Kennedy made a special point of the matter of job discrimination against Negroes, calling it "a blot on our democracy and a drag on our economy."

The President announced that November employment reached a new high for the month at 67,349,000. Moreover, he said, unemployment in November fell below 6.8 per cent of the labor force for the first time in a year. The rate was 6.1 per cent.

Carrying on a campaign for broad authority to negotiate reciprocal tariff cuts, Kennedy also told the union leaders he would propose measures to help communities, industries and working men hurt by competition from imported goods.

He rejected "permanent government paternalism," advocating instead a program that would add to and coordinate present plans for areas already hit by unemployment for small business incentives to investment in new plants and the retraining and compensation of jobless men and women.

"Temporary tariff relief may be a part of the prescription in individual cases," Kennedy said.

"Whatever is required, we will make certain that no community suffers unduly from trade. For, on the contrary, America must trade—or suffer."

The President Wednesday appealed to the National Association of Manufacturers for support of a trade policy he maintained would stimulate exports by chopping off tariff barriers.

To enable U.S. producers to sell on world markets, he declared "labor must demonstrate its responsibility in helping to keep over-all wage movements in line with increases in productivity."

In recommending standby public works authority, Kennedy courted attacks from such groups as the NAM which have labeled it a scheme for inflationary make-work projects.

"To add to our arsenal of built-in stabilizers in the event of a recession," Kennedy said he would propose legislation along the lines of a bill introduced by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa. He suggested grants-in-aid to communities for needed public works.

"We do not intend to go back to the days of leaf raking," Kennedy said, "but neither do we intend to go back to the days of (Continued on Page 14)

Cleric Calls Birch Movement a 'Sin'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A University of Dayton theology professor has declared that the rightist movement typified by the John Birch Society "constitutes a sin against social justice."

The opinion came from Father John Kelley, S.M., speaking at a public meeting on the campus as part of a "moral problems in the community" lecture series.

Father Kelley said the Birch society has used and intends to use exposure as a general tactic, and he added: "In order to judge the rightist movement on moral principles, it is necessary to maintain that the undocumented exposure—the smear—goes contrary to fair play. More precisely, this tactic is judged to be a sin against individual justice. . . . a movement which harms the peace harms the common good. And such a movement constitutes a sin against social justice."

Westfall Schools Fail To Meet Minimum Level, Inspector Says

Members of the Pickaway County Board of Education learned officially last night the four high schools of Westfall Local School District have failed to meet minimum standards in the eyes of a state school inspector and stand in danger of losing their charters.

Although the recommendations of Gerald R. Norman, supervisor for the Ohio Department of Education, are not final until reviewed and acted upon by the State Board of Education, George D. McDowell, county superintendent, noted a definite possibility of charter revocation.

Wanderer, 3, Is Returned To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Little Kenny Deel was home and feeling fine today after a plane trip from Jacksonville, Fla., where police found him wandering around last week.

Kenneth Deel, the father, said the three-year-old had slept most of the way to Cincinnati. They arrived home about 5:45 a.m.

"He was all tired," Deel said. "It was the first time he'd been on a plane. But in 10 minutes he was asleep and slept all the way."

Deel, a shipping clerk, flew to Florida and got custody of the youngster after he had seen the boy's picture in a Cincinnati newspaper. He is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Deel.

"I'm going to keep Kenny with me," he said. "I've got custody of him now." Judge Lamar Winegar of Jacksonville Juvenile Court turned the blond youngster over to his father Wednesday.

Deel said Kenny recognized his grandparents when he arrived at home this morning. He said the last time they had seen the boy was in January when he left Cincinnati for New Jersey with his mother, Mrs. Ann Deel.

"He's feeling just fine now that he's up," Deel said today.

"I don't know why my wife took Kenny to Florida," he said. "I haven't heard from her since all this started."

He added he was thinking of getting a divorce.

Rites in Hawaii Recall Pearl Harbor; New Surprise Attack Still Possible

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — "In this missile and thermonuclear age, it would be foolhardy indeed to assume that surprise attack will never be a possibility."

This warning was delivered today by Adm. John H. Sides, commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, at ceremonies marking the 20th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Ceremonies were held on a platform above the waters along "Battleship Row." Activity throughout the naval base halted momentarily in memory of that black Sunday—Dec. 7, 1941.

Allies at Odds On Congo Issue

Serious Disagreement Seen as Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and its chief European allies may find themselves entrapped in serious disagreement over U.N. operations in the Congo unless some way is found soon to end the conflict in Katanga Province.

Beyond allied considerations, the way the United Nations deals with the Congo situation is a challenge to its own future.

The problem of coordinating attitudes on the Congo problem seems likely to be one of the issues discussed by President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan when they meet in Bermuda Dec. 21-22.

Meanwhile authorities here are somewhat worried over the evidences of drifting apart which have recently become more apparent. The latest sign of differences of approach in London and Washington developed Wednesday in almost simultaneous government announcements.

In London a British government spokesman, discussing the Katanga crisis in Parliament, declared that the United Nations should not impose a political solution in the Congo by force. However, he said that U.N. military units there have the right of self defense.

In plain language, the British position is that the United Nations has no right to use military force to compel Katanga President Moise Tshombe to end his secession. The United Nations must rather seek to effect a negotiated solution of his break with the central Congo government at Leopoldville.

In Washington the State Department announced that the U.S. Air Force would make available up to 21 more big transport aircraft to enlarge the American airlift of six transports already ferrying reinforcements for the U.N. military operations around Elisabethville, Tshombe's capital.

Both U.S. and British officials here said there is no basic difference over the policy of Congo unification; both governments support it.

Bandit Asks Bank Aide To Call Police

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Henry Kramer, 66, walked up to a teller at the Security First National Bank's branch in downtown Los Angeles Wednesday and handed her a note saying:

"Give me all the money you have and make haste about it. Xmas is too close to lose any time. The crime is now. A fait accompli."

The he asked the teller to call police, which she did.

Booked on suspicion of robbery, Kramer sighed:

"For 27 years I've owned and operated a corner grocery store in Baltimore but the weight of problems got too much for me."

The problems included, he said, loss of business to big markets, taxes, separation from his wife "and 84 hours a week in the store."

U.N. Chief Asks For Wider Power

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

—Bolstered by U.S. support, Acting Secretary-General U. Thant today sought wider approval for his sweeping new plan to bring the breakaway Congo province of Katanga under United Nations control.

U.N. sources said Thant would submit the plan to his Congo advisory committee before making it public.

Thant disclosed earlier that the plan aims at carrying out U.N. resolutions on the Congo, including the Security Council's directive of Nov. 24 authorizing him to use force if necessary to expel from Katanga the estimated 200 foreign mercenaries serving with President Moise Tshombe's army and air force.

Thant outlined the plan Wednesday night in a 50-minute briefing at U.N. headquarters with Adlai E. Stevenson, the chief U.S. delegate to the U.N.; G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs; and Edmund A. Gullion, U.S. ambassador to the Congo.

"The United States is very pleased with the plan of the secretary-general to bring Katanga under control," Stevenson said.

A U.S. spokesman said the plan included use of force to end the fighting in Katanga and a blueprint of action designed to restore peace throughout the Congo.

The U.S. airlift to Elisabethville was suddenly suspended today when Katanga troops fired small arms at a Globemaster as it came in over Tshombe's presidential villa for a landing at the Elisabethville airport. Several bullets

African Finds That Yankees Really Sweat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is a country where most people are cowboys and the rest are millionaires, no one has to work, and all Indians wear feathers and want to fight.

Or so it seems to most Africans, says Victoria Mutswairo, an African school teacher from Southern Rhodesia.

And, she adds, "I think Americans have just as wrong an impression of Africa."

Mrs. Mutswairo is one of 15 women educators from nine African nations who are winding up a three-month tour of this country.

"My biggest surprise in this country was that Americans work hard, they actually sweat," she told a news conference Wednesday.

And where do Africans get their ideas about the United States?

"The children at home admire Americans and American ways," Mrs. Mutswairo said. "They try to copy them, and their models are the films they see on television. The girls try to walk the way American girls walk, and the boys want to wear American style trousers with narrow leg bottoms."

If the Africans were surprised by the real Americans, Mrs. Mutswairo said, many Americans were equally surprised by a true picture of Africans.

TV Crime Shows OK'd for Felons

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—The North Carolina Prison Commission has decided its inmates probably won't pick up any more bad habits just by watching crime movies and television.

The commission voted Wednesday to allow prisoners to view movies dealing with crime, and to take away from prison officials the right to censor nighttime TV viewing.

"We're trying to protect these people from something we can't even protect our own families from," said commission member M. B. Davis. "You can't beat Madison Avenue."

Gotham Cops Told To Use Billy Clubs

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City policemen have been advised to use their nightsticks freely when necessary to restrain a prisoner or to avoid injury.

An illustrated leaflet distributed Wednesday to members of the force advises concerning the nightstick:

"Use it. Taking a prisoner into custody is not a personal contest between you and him. Forget the marquis of queensberry rules. Your duty to the department and your family is to restrain your prisoner without injury to yourself."

A nationwide survey has shown a great increase in mob attacks on policemen, many in New York City.

Youths Told They'll Help Shape Destiny
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy told a cheering, clapping crowd of Young Democrats today that they will be helping to shape the destiny of the United States during "the most hazardous period in the human race."

Speaking in a hotel hall where the Young Democratic Clubs of America are meeting in national convention, Kennedy said he wanted their help, not so much for the elections ahead but in demonstrating that this country is in fact the leader of the free world.

Kennedy said that a political party is not an end in itself but only a means of making progress for the United States.

Parties will endure, he said, only as they contribute to the welfare of the country.

These days are more complicated than those of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, Kennedy said, and he asked the delegates how the country could maintain the peace, keep the economy in forward gear, and find jobs for millions of young Americans coming into the labor market.

Noting that there had been several economic recessions, he asked:

"Is this economy going to run out of gas again?"

The day that the Democratic Party is not prepared to come forth with programs to answer these questions, the President said, "We will fade as the Whig Party faded and gave way to the Republicans."

Youths Told They'll Help Shape Destiny

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy told a cheering, clapping crowd of Young Democrats today that they will be helping to shape the destiny of the United States during "the most hazardous period in the human race."

Speaking in a hotel hall where the Young Democratic Clubs of America are meeting in national convention, Kennedy said he wanted their help, not so much for the elections ahead but in demonstrating that this country is in fact the leader of the free world.

Kennedy said that a political party is not an end in itself but only a means of making progress for the United States.

Parties will endure, he said, only as they contribute to the welfare of the country.

These days are more complicated than those of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, Kennedy said, and he asked the delegates how the country could maintain the peace, keep the economy in forward gear, and find jobs for millions of young Americans coming into the labor market.

Noting that there had been several economic recessions, he asked:

"Is this economy going to run out of gas again?"

The day that the Democratic Party is not prepared to come forth with programs to answer these questions, the President said, "We will fade as the Whig Party faded and gave way to the Republicans."

5 Men Flee County Jail

Eastern Ohio Police Search for Escapees

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Hundreds of law enforcement officers combed Eastern Ohio today in a hunt for five men who made a daring escape from the Belmont County jail here.

Officers said three of the men were considered dangerous. They are Robert Kehr, 24, held on an armed robbery charge; Richard Beck, 27, charged with breaking and entering; and Robert Pelkey, 24, convicted Wednesday of forgery and sentenced to a 1-20 year prison term. All three are from Wheeling, W. Va.

The other two escapees are Richard Mulvey, 24, of Wheeling and Jack Loy, 37, of nearby Bethesda. Mulvey faces a grand larceny charge and Loy is accused of passing bad checks.

The break, which officials said they doubt was planned, began Wednesday night when night jailer Steve Miller, 52, alone in the jail, opened a cell door to get a box of clothing from Pelkey. The clothing was to be returned to Pelkey's wife.

When Miller entered the cell, Pelkey began fighting and during the commotion, Mulvey raced out of the cell door.

Miller said he grabbed at the fleeing prisoner and tore Mulvey's shirt off as the pair tumbled down a stairway. Mulvey finally struggled free and dashed out the door.

Miller said he ran back up stairs to the cell block just in time to see Pelkey open the main cell door and the other three men run for freedom.

Officers said 16 other men were in cells which were opened but did not make any attempt to flee.

Governor Ousts Newport Sheriff

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Bert Combs ousted Campbell County Sheriff Norbert Roll today on neglect of duty charges, but took no immediate action on Campbell Patrol Chief Harry Stuart, facing the same charges.

The governor commented after his order that he was acting against Roll for "careless" neglect in failing to supervise Newport vice rather than "intentional" neglect, which he laid to two other ousted northern Kentucky officials.

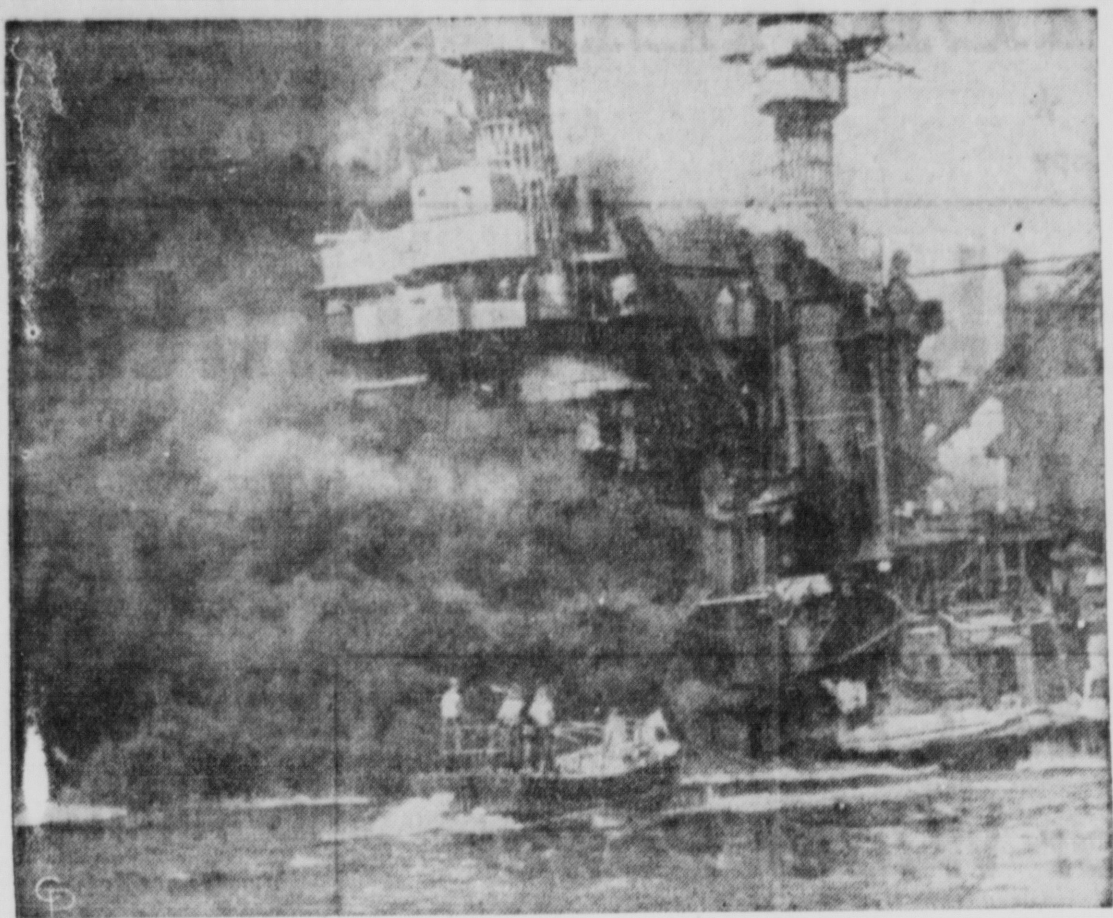

Campbell County Judge A. J. Jolly is expected to name a successor for the few weeks remaining in the sheriff's current term. Sheriff-elect George Ratterman, who takes over in January, was a reform candidate running as an independent.

Rhodes Panel To Meet

CLEVELAND (AP)—This year's state selection committee for Rhodes Scholars, headed by Wright Bryan, editor of the Plain Dealer, will meet here next Wednesday to choose two Ohio candidates.

Deaths and Funerals

MR. EMIL LEIDICH

The ashes of Mr. Emil Leidich, 72, the husband of Mrs. Evelyn Lewis Leidich, a former Circleville resident, were interred in Forest Cemetery yesterday.

Mr. Leidich died Oct. 27 of this past year in Grosse Point, Mich. Burial here was in the Lewis Family plot.

For many years Mr. Leidich was owner of a travel bureau in Detroit, Mich. His wife, who resided on W. Franklin St. during her childhood, survives.

Other survivors are one son, Philip, St. Clair Shores, Mich., and twins grandchildren.

MRS. JESSE M. MCMILLEN

Mrs. Jesse May McMillen, 85, died Wednesday in the Elizabeth Ann Nursing Home, Washington C. H.

Mrs. McMillen was born Jan. 9, 1876, in Perry County, the daughter of Asa and Susan Hezelton Tharp. On Aug. 29, 1914, she was married to Louis Frank McMillen who preceded her in death in 1942.

She is survived by nieces and nephews.

Services will be 2 p. m. Friday in the Hill Funeral Home, Williamsport, with the Rev. Donald Humble officiating. Burial will be in Spring Lawn Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home anytime.

MRS. LAURA LEE LUTZ

Mrs. Laura Lee Lutz, 90, died at 9:30 a. m. today in the home of her sister, Miss Carrie Rudell, Kingston, following a brief illness.

Mrs. Lutz was born Mar. 8, 1871, near Hallsville, the daughter of George and Mary Senff Rudell. She was the widow of Carrie Lutz. Three sisters and one brother also are deceased.

Mrs. Lutz was a member of the Kingston Nazarene Church.

Services will be 2 p. m. Sunday in the Hill Funeral Home, Kingston, with the Rev. Alva Boyer officiating. Burial will be in White Church Cemetery near Hallsville. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 2 p. m. Friday.

City Schools' Library Needs Eyed by Board

In a session dominated by discussion periods, the city Board of Education took a long look at goals and present progress of the system's library system.

Members of the board conferred with Miss Mary Adkinson and high school principal Richard Snouffer for almost two hours on the need for additional funds to add reference material and general volumes to the library's shelves. Miss Adkinson noted many books were out-of-date and needed replacement.

The board, in its only official action, purchased 250 chairs from the Dobson-Evans Co. of Columbus at a cost of approximately $775. No action was taken on the library program.

Mrs. Maggie Rudd was employed to replace Mrs. Archie Williams as a member of the cafeteria staff in Wayne Twp. School. The board also accepted for the record the official tax rate for next year offered by the County Budget Commission.

About 71 per cent of the 26 million acres in Ohio is in farms.

The Light Side

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce has been alerted by the Better Business Bureau concerning unsavory practices conducted by representatives of a certain furnace company. According to the report, a favorite scheme is to dismantle a furnace, declare it unsafe and then apply pressure for the sale of a new unit. Full details on the matter are on file at the local Chamber office.

Each year police and sheriff's deputies are called many times to investigate cases where home owners have been swindled by high pressure salesmen or alleged repairmen. "Know who you are dealing with," lawmen advise.

Many local persons are wondering what has happened to the Nativity Scene which in former years graced the front of the Courthouse at Christmas time. The scenery apparently has been in storage for several years. Its appearance this year would add to the city's already fine Yule decorations.

Police Probe Money Theft

Circleville Police today investigated a report money theft at a northend residence.

Sgt. Turney Ross and Patrolman William Goff said Eddie Hixenbaugh, rear of 100 Highland Ave., reported the incident.

Hixenbaugh told officers about $40 in paper money and coins was taken from his basement.

He said the theft occurred within the last week. He hadn't checked the money for six or seven days.

Officers said nothing in the house seemed to be disturbed. No signs of forcible entry were found.

Barn Entered

At Fairgrounds

A horse barn at the Pickaway County Fairground was burglarized yesterday evening.

City Police reported today that two tackrooms in the horse barn belonging to Ed Wallace, were entered between 10 and 11:30 p. m. yesterday.

Intruders entered a tackroom, rented by Donald Eldridge, and scattered gear and saddles on the floor. They also took a halter valued at about $7.

The burglars then entered a second tackroom, rented by Robert Van Gundy, where they ransacked equipment and threw several articles on the floor. A lead strap was reported missing.—ad.

fighter. But the Kolwezi telephone exchange reported only one Katangan DC4 was destroyed and there was no other damage.

Private sources reported that U.N. planes, in a second air attack on Kolwezi Wednesday afternoon, destroyed the reserve fuel tanks there.

Kolwezi, in the center of the copper-cobalt mining belt, was reported quiet this morning. No fighting was reported outside Elisabethville, despite claims in Paris Wednesday by Tshombe that the U.N. had attacked at Manono, 275 miles north of Elisabethville, and the fighting was becoming general.

Tshombe left Paris Wednesday night, saying he would take personal command of his forces, and arrived today in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo across the Congo River from Leopoldville.

The volatile Katangan president took off an hour later aboard a special French airliner. Unconfirmed reports said he was bound for Salisbury, capital of Southern Rhodesia and the Central African Federation, whose prime minister, Sir Roy Welensky, favors the secessionist Katanga regime.

Before leaving Paris, the Katanga leader charged the United States was supplying planes to the U.N. "to bombard the peaceful Katangan population" and playing into the hands of the Soviets.

The Belgian TV network quoted Tshombe as saying in an interview: "I seriously wonder whether there are not Communists in the State Department."

Asked about the possibilities of negotiations to end the fighting, he replied tartly: "How can there be any negotiations when Negro women and children are being massacred by American planes in Katanga."

Despite Tshombe's charges, U.S. and U.N. officials in Leopoldville said the Globemaster transports were the only American planes involved in the Katanga operation and that the U.N. command's 15 jet fighters are from Sweden, India and Ethiopia.

Sale of Jets To Slavs Said Help to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department describes the sale of 278 jet aircraft to Yugoslavia as beneficial to the United States because the planes help the Yugoslavs maintain their independence from Moscow.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., today made public a letter in which Brook Hays, as assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, asserted "it is clear that Yugoslavia's independence and resistance to Soviet imperialism have directly benefited the United States."

The letter, dated Nov. 28, was in reply to Tower's request for a recapitulation of the history of the Yugoslav aid program. The senator said there had been complaints from his state against the sale and against the training of Yugoslav pilots in Texas in the use of the jets.

Hays said the contract for sale of the jet aircraft was signed last March after approval by both the State and Defense departments on the grounds it was in accordance with the best interest of the United States.

He said the aircraft are outdated from the standpoint of U.S. military needs and any assumption that they have any strategic significance to this country is ill-founded.

Since the date of the letter, Hays has been shifted from the State Department to President Kennedy's White House staff.

County Man Fined For Intoxication

A Pickaway County motorist arrested by the State Highway Patrol for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicants headed the Municipal Court traffic docket today.

Charles Frazee, 55, Route 3, was fined $150 and costs, sentenced to three days in the county jail and had his operator's license suspended for six months by Judge Sterling Lamb on the OMVI charge.

Harold Strong, 25, Pittsburgh, Pa., forfeited a $19 bond for passing a stop sign. He was arrested by city police.

Jerry D. Gwyn, 36, Detroit, Mich., was fined $15 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

SYNOPSIS: While his ministers have been arguing, King Ferdinand of Polydora has solved the mystery of the great hole. It is a giant footprint, stamped with the name "Ipswitch."

CHAPTER FOUR
TRAILING THE IPSWITCH
The ministers stared at King Ferdinand in astonishment. "An IPSWITCH?" exclaimed the Minister of War. "What is an Ipswitch?"

"It's a city somewhere—I forget just where," said the Minister of Education importantly.

"No, no," protested a Doctor of Medicine. "It's a kind of nervous feeling—or jitter!"

"I thought it was a special kind of preserves," said the Palace Dietician.

King Ferdinand coughed at attention. "The Ipswitch I am talking about," he declared. "Is a giant with enormous feet and it stepped with its enormous left foot into the middle of the Public Square. That is what shook the town and made the hole in the Garden. Its name is printed on its heel and if you want to see for yourselves come in the tower and look."

Trying not to show how pleased he was with himself for his detective work, King Ferdinand led the ministers to the top most tower of the palace where they saw that what he said was true and they really had been visited by a giant named Ipswitch.

The ministers were very impressed with the King's discovery and they thought perhaps he was not so simpleminded after all. Then the palace shoe maker who, unknown to anyone, had trailed along behind them, tugged at the King's sleeve and said:

"Your Majesty, if the giant is an Ipswitch, we are all the same."

"What do you mean?" asked the King.

"You see, sir everyone has Ipswitch written on his shoe. It's the name of the heel."

The King looked at his own heel

Everyone has Ipswitch written on his shoe, explained the shoemaker.

and all his ministers looked at their heels and sure enough "Ipswitch" was printed on every one.

The King blushed at his mistake. But he quickly recovered and said, "Well, anyway, the heel in the Public Garden is certainly the largest heel in the world and, as such, deserves to be known as the one and only real Ipswitch even if everyone in the Kingdom is a little Ipswitch."

To this everyone agreed because it made them feel ever so much better to have a name for their enemy. It made it all less mysterious and easier to cope with somehow.

Then one of the ministers said, "If the Ipswitch is so enormous why is it we could not see him as he passed by?"

This stumped them all but the King, who was used to all kinds of mysteries having read so many detective stories, said, "Perhaps he moved too fast or perhaps he was invisible or perhaps he was very, very thin."

"But what are we to do?" finally, asked the Minister of Action.

The King had never felt so wise and important. "It seems to me," he said simply, "That if the left foot landed here the right foot had to land somewhere else. Therefore we have only to track the footprints and we'll come to the Ipswitch."

The ministers thought this a brilliant idea and they set out at once to find where the right foot of the Ipswitch had landed. They were not too long in finding it because just as they set out word came from a distant province that a forest of pine trees had been suddenly crushed to earth. And from a still further province word came that a large lake had inexplicably overflowed its sides the way a bathtub full of water would do if a fat man suddenly leaped into it.

The strangest thing was that all the tracks were made by a left foot!

The King and his ministers followed the left footed trail until they came finally to a great ocean and here the tracks ended.

"Ah," said the King. "It has gone too far. It has stepped into the ocean and the ocean is so deep it would drown a creature as tall as the sky, especially a creature with only one foot!"

Then the ministers congratulated the King for his wisdom and they all returned to the palace.

Additional Data Is Sought on Mindszenty

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials say they want to know more before commenting on a Hungarian proposal to discuss the future of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty.

They also wonder privately what the two countries could say about the Roman Catholic prelate who has been in refuge at the American legation in Budapest since the anti-Communist Hungarian revolt of 1956.

Gyula Kallai, deputy premier of the Communist regime in Hungary, told a news conference Monday that his government is ready to negotiate a settlement of the 69-year-old cardinal's future. He also was quoted as saying it cannot be handled separately but only as part of a broad settlement of other questions. Officials here said it wasn't a surprise. They said feelers have been put out by diplomats on both sides, although there have been no clear-cut proposals.

But these sources point out the Hungarian Communists have been particularly rankled over the fact that the crushing of the 1956 revolt is brought up for discussion every year in the United Nations. They have repeatedly hinted that the United States could, if it wanted, arrange for the matter to quietly die.

It is believed that American diplomats have mentioned such things as an amnesty for political prisoners, many of them serving long sentences for their part in the uprising.

'Twist' Is Toned Down, Legalized in Chardon

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — "The Twist," the new dance craze, is legal again at Chardon High School—but in a toned-down form.

School Superintendent Ira A. Canfield, who banned the dance four weeks ago because it became "disgusting," lifted the ban after he received a petition from four students who agreed to certain regulations. The students said there is nothing wrong with the dance if it is properly done. The Student Council has agreed the music at future school dances would be stopped if solo twisting returns.

Women without Men

A survey of the Russian people by the Population Reference Bureau discloses that nation has the largest proportion of widows of any country.

World War II doesn't explain the disproportionate number of widows, according to the bureau. No generation of the Russian people has escaped war, revolution, forced labor or famine.

It is recalled that during the now maligned Stalin Regime millions of farmers starved while resisting collective farms.

There are no figures on the numbers that were executed, imprisoned, or shipped off to remote places to die.

So if any female wants to improve her chances of being a woman without a man (above age 32 there are 20 million more Russian women than men) she should apply for Russian citizenship. Perhaps the next best chance would be that other communist paradise, Red China, where revolution and famine will doubtless have the same end results.

Vivid Memory of Fateful Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty years after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt still has vivid memories of that fateful day that changed the world.

She had just finished lunching with guests in the White House when an usher informed her of the Japanese surprise attack. The President was upstairs alone in his study.

"Cabinet members and staff officers began arriving," recalled Mrs. Roosevelt. She retired to her sitting room and tried to busy herself with her mail.

"Just before dinner I got in to speak to Franklin," she said. "He was very tired, but on the whole very calm—and chiefly interested in what he was going to do next."

"The worst had happened. He had hoped we would not be engaged in a two-front war—and now we were. There was nothing to do but to meet it."

"Tired as he looked, I could feel the certainty was easier for him to accept than the uncertainty before. It is always easier when you know what you face, and can make plans, than to have to live with uncertainty."

At 77, widowed 16 years now,

By Hal Boyle

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt still meets the uncertainties of this world with grace and charm and courage and an unflinching cheerfulness.

Seated in her East Side apartment on a crimson sofa flanked by photos of Adlai E. Stevenson and Prime Minister Nehru of India, she said: "I try to cut down on my schedule, but I don't seem to be able to do much about it."

She still makes four or five public appearances a week, writes a three-weekly newspaper column, a monthly magazine column, and freely gives of her time to scores who come to her for advice or comfort.

Usually she methodically has her Christmas shopping done months ahead of time, but this year is a little late.

"I have a long list—such a long list," she smiled. "I have 20 grandchildren now, and 13 great-grandchildren."

Here are her replies to a series of questions about her life and views:

"I've never thought through a personal philosophy of my own. I'm one of those who live pretty much day by day and meet the opportunities that come to them."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A SOLEMN YOUNGSTER with a fantastically high I.Q. keeps asking his socialite mother questions she can't answer—but to keep him quiet, she must give some sort of reply—so she makes things up as she goes along. "Invention," she sighs, "is the necessity of Mother!"

The dam had burst on a tributary of the Missouri River and the countryside was flooded. A reporter from a Keokuk newspaper called up Farmer Coggins to see how things were going on his riverside acres. "Well," said Farmer Coggins cautiously, "I gotta tell you we're bobbing for apples over here—and it ain't Hallowe'en."

Gypsy Rose Lee would have you believe that this is how she embarked upon her career as a stripper: "I was trying out for a singing role in a musical comedy. I sang my heart out, in fact. When I had finished, a brute of a director said, 'Well, don't just stand there, young lady. Un-do something!'"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.
Typists shoulder! I can't even type my name!

The typewriter isn't essential. Everyone is vulnerable to bursitis—painful inflammation in a soft lubricating sac (or bursa) that cushions bony points. Infection, irritation and constant wear and tear can all trigger this inflammation.

Bursitis may be called miner's elbow, housemaid's knee or tailor's bottom—but it generally strikes the shoulder. It mimics arthritis. Painful twinges shoot down your arm and occasionally across your shoulder into the neck. Like a toy soldier, you hold the arm stiffly at your side; the slightest jar makes you see stars. Raw nerve endings scream when you try to lift the arm away from your side.

Your doctor can locate the tender bursa with his fingertips. Bursitis usually fades in a week or so. But it may smolder for months or years. Shrinking scars and chunks of calcium fill and irritate the once-smooth bursa.

Shoulder muscles weaken and wither, and the joint eventually freezes solid.

Aspirins and hot packs can soothe the pain of most early inflammation. If not, try numbing ice packs. Special prescriptions can relieve painful muscle spasm.

Ease the load on your shoulder! Support your arm in a sling when you stand; on a pillow when you sit.

Your doctor may inject cortisone medicines and Novocain-like chemicals into the bursa to melt inflammation and numb pain. Now you can swing your arm!

Shrinking scars stretch and calcium breaks up and dissolves as inflammation drains into circulation. One shot often cures!

Sen. Bridges — a Patriot

Senator Styles Bridges was unusual in his total patriotism. His horizon was beyond party; his loyalties were beyond personal motive or interest.

He led the Republican Party in the Senate during difficult years when the party was uncertain as to purpose and principle. Succeeding Robert A. Taft as a political philosopher, his interest was never limited to the success of his party but was designed to strengthen his country. Therefore, he was respected by Republican and Democrat alike.

I knew him well and admired him greatly and if I am slow in writing an obituary, it is only because his death pained me so. Styles Bridges represented a generation that inevitably must soon pass into history.

It was the generation of the depression whose aspiration was mere survival, not only for our country but for each individual. That generation witnessed the passing of the traditions of America from the mores of those who founded the country to the confusions of change an alteration in imitation of novel European forms. It was a curious period, for the richest of all lands found itself the poorest spiritually with nothing to say of itself or for itself except defensively. In such a time, a man like Styles Bridges stands gallantly before the younger generations a courageous battler for truth and tradition.

The private lives of public men are often sad and lonely. They have little time to offer their wives, upon whom is placed the burden of participation in the constant round of public affairs and campaigning. Some wives add to their husband's burdens by misunderstanding their roles; some become competitive with their husbands for public notice.

The wives of such men live with husbands who are always tired; who have no periods of rest or recreation; who must answer the call of government and party and go battling for friend and colleague when they would prefer to remain at home with their children. Often the wife of the political personality has to drag along with him lest his days be filled with ugly and untruthful rumors. And a wife must be patient when the husband is unjustly attacked and abused.

Styles Bridges was most fortunate in a happy and comfortable family life. His wife, Doloris, fitted his intellectual and spiritual mood and understood the responsibilities of the political life. Those who knew them saw a man and wife who were not competing against each other but who understood not only each other's character but their mutual responsibilities. They lived in frank and cordial affection which their friends knew and respected.

It is now being proposed in New Hampshire that Doloris succeed to her husband's seat in the Senate. Surely no one in New Hampshire, or for that matter, anywhere, could have had more Senatorial experience than Doloris Bridges who worked with her husband through many years. She was only a wife to her husband, but a friend and colleague and one who could quietly add wisdom to the quality of womanhood which she so richly possesses. I can testify to her unusual breadth of view and wisdom for often I have listened to her comments on current events.

If New Hampshire should decide to give Styles Bridges' seat to his wife, Doloris, they will assure themselves of a continuous high quality in their representation in the Senate. New England has never been afraid to recognize able and strong women.

The passing of Styles Bridges weakens the leadership of the Republican Party in Congress. Bridges was Chairman of the Republican Policy Committee which decided formally what the Republican Party believed and practiced. The leader of the Republicans in the Senate is Everett Dirksen of Illinois. It was Bridges, however, who gave a philosophic tone to the Republicans in the Senate. This was particularly valuable during the Eisenhower Administration when the party was uncertain as to its character and its future. President Eisenhower provided no leadership in Congress, he perhaps not altogether understanding the relations of the Presidency to Congress.

Since the advent of the Kennedy Administration, the Republican Party has been split by factionalism ranging from the Conservatism of Barry Goldwater to the Liberalism of Nelson Rockefeller. Senator Bridges sought to establish unity of thought and a lessening of animosities. It is difficult to know who can take his place as the party peace-maker in these years of trial.

Women without Men

A survey of the Russian people by the Population Reference Bureau discloses that nation has the largest proportion of widows of any country.

World War II doesn't explain the disproportionate number of widows, according to the bureau. No generation of the Russian people has escaped war, revolution, forced labor or famine.

It is recalled that during the now maligned Stalin Regime millions of farmers starved while resisting collective farms.

There are no figures on the numbers that were executed, imprisoned, or shipped off to remote places to die.

So if any female wants to improve her chances of being a woman without a man (above age 32 there are 20 million more Russian women than men) she should apply for Russian citizenship. Perhaps the next best chance would be that other communist paradise, Red China, where revolution and famine will doubtless have the same end results.

Vivid Memory of Fateful Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty years after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt still has vivid memories of that fateful day that changed the world.

She had just finished lunching with guests in the White House when an usher informed her of the Japanese surprise attack. The President was upstairs alone in his study.

"Cabinet members and staff officers began arriving," recalled Mrs. Roosevelt. She retired to her sitting room and tried to busy herself with her mail.

"Just before dinner I got in to speak to Franklin," she said. "He was very tired, but on the whole very calm—and chiefly interested in what he was going to do next."

"The worst had happened. He had hoped we would not be engaged in a two-front war—and now we were. There was nothing to do but to meet it."

"Tired as he looked, I could feel the certainty was easier for him to accept than the uncertainty before. It is always easier when you know what you face, and can make plans, than to have to live with uncertainty."

At 77, widowed 16 years now,

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt still meets the uncertainties of this world with grace and charm and courage and an unflinching cheerfulness.

Seated in her East Side apartment on a crimson sofa flanked by photos of Adlai E. Stevenson and Prime Minister Nehru of India, she said: "I try to cut down on my schedule, but I don't seem to be able to do much about it."

She still makes four or five public appearances a week, writes a thrice-weekly newspaper column, a monthly magazine column, and freely gives of her time to scores who come to her for advice or comfort.

Usually she methodically has her Christmas shopping done months ahead of time, but this year is a little late.

"I have a long list—such a long list," she smiled. "I have 20 grandchildren now, and 13 great-grandchildren."

Here are her replies to a series of questions about her life and views:

"I've never thought through a personal philosophy of my own. I'm one of those who live pretty much day by day and meet the opportunities that come to them."

"Life is the acquisition of experience and the ability to face realities and accept them."

"What troubles most people is the almost automatic clinging to things that are known, and not being excited by the things that are unknown. This brings about a fear to face change in a constantly changing world."

"The younger generation? Frequently their biggest problem isn't themselves but their parents. I think the present young generation is better informed and more serious than the previous two or three generations were."

"No, I wouldn't want to be young again myself. I am satisfied with the period in which I lived. When you are young you have many unsatisfied ambitions, but I have none now."

Asked if she had any regrets or ever brooded over the past, Mrs. Roosevelt smiled, and shook her head. Her blue eyes looked over at a small statue near the window of the famed winged victory of Samothrace—her personal symbol of timeless courage and endurance.

"The thing I am most grateful for," she said, "is for an interesting life—and the opportunities I had to learn along the way."

Try and Stop Me

A SOLEMN YOUNGSTER with a fantastically high I.Q. keeps asking his socialite mother questions she can't answer—but to keep him quiet, she must give some sort of reply—so she makes things up as she goes along. "Invention," she sighs, "is the necessity of Mother!"

The dam had burst on a tributary of the Missouri River and the countryside was flooded. A reporter from a Keokuck newspaper called up Farmer Coggin to see how things were going on his riverside acres. "Well," said Farmer Coggin cautiously, "I gotta tell you here—be bobbing for apples over we're—and it ain't Hallowe'en."

Gypsy Rose Lee would have you believe that this is how she embarked upon her career as a stripper: "I was trying out for a singing role in a musical comedy. I sang my heart out, in fact. When I had finished, a brute of a director said, 'Well, don't just stand there, young lady. Un-do something!'"

Inside You and Yours

Typists shoulder! I can't even type my name!

The typewriter isn't essential. Everyone is vulnerable to bursitis—painful inflammation in a soft lubricating sac (or bursa) that cushions bony points. Infection, irritation and constant wear and tear can all trigger this inflammation.

Bursitis may be called miner's elbow, housemaid's knee or tailor's bottom—but it generally strikes the shoulder. It mimics arthritis. Painful twinges shoot down your arm and occasionally across your shoulder into the neck. Like a toy soldier, you hold the arm stiffly at your side; the slightest jar makes you see stars. Raw nerve endings scream when you try to lift the arm away from your side.

Your doctor can locate the tender bursa with his fingertips. He may even feel the painful swelling. Bursitis usually fades in a week or so. But it may smolder for months or years. Shrinking scars and chunks of calcium fill and irritate the once-smooth bursa.

Shoulder muscles weaken and wither, and the joint eventually freezes solid.

Aspirins and hot packs can soothe the pain of most early inflammation. If not, try numbing ice packs. Special prescriptions can relieve painful muscle spasm.

Ease the load on your shoulder! Support your arm in a sling when you stand; on a pillow when you sit.

Your doctor may inject cortisone medicines and Novocain-like chemicals into the bursa to melt inflammation and numb pain. Now you can swing your arm!

Shrinking scars stretch and calcium breaks up and dissolves as inflammation drains into circulation. One shot often cures!

Exercises prevent the frozen shoulder of smoldering bursitis. Swing that stiff, dangling arm gently back and forth—10 or 20 times every few hours. As the joint stretches, move the arm in other directions—especially out away from your side.

U.S. Film Making Overseas Is Discussed by Reporter

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Much ado about runaways.

Last week's congressional hearing developed some heat but not too much light on the complex matter of American film production overseas. Here is some plain talk about runaways as observed by this reporter at home and abroad.

Q. Has the trend to overseas filming cut Hollywood production drastically?

A. Yes. Of the 38 American films currently shooting, 26 will be made wholly or in part away from Hollywood. Fifteen years ago, less than 10 per cent of American films were shot on location.

Q. Does this make Hollywood a ghost town?

A. No. Employment is at the highest peak in three years.

Q. Then what is all the fuss about?

A. Because high employment is due largely to the 100 TV film series. Theatrical filming is at a minimum.

Q. Why do American film companies shoot abroad?

A. For cheaper costs, foreign subsidies and authentic locales, in that order.

Q. Are films that much cheaper to make abroad?

A. Spectacles are. Hollywood labor has priced itself out of competition in the world film market. American extras get up to $20 a day for doing what the Roman extra does for $3. Sets are cheaper, too.

Q. How do the foreign subsidies work?

A. Movies made in a country might get a kickback from a box-office tax. Foreign films may be taxed or admitted by quota only.

Q. Is this unfair competition?

A. Possibly, since the United States imposes no such restrictions, nor does it subsidize its own film industry.

Q. Is Hollywood's plight a serious one?

A. It is getting to be. Runaway films, TV production and selling real estate have kept the big companies in business. But these are stopgap measures that don't meet the big problem: How to maintain a continuity of film making in America.

Q. Why should we care about this?

A. Because though they often exasperate us, Hollywood and the film industry are a national asset and have won us more friends abroad than all the diplomats of history.

Q. What can be done?

A. By the government—study of the film industry's plight, with possible measures to insure fair competition abroad. By the industry—more leadership and creativity in making the kind of entertainment that made Hollywood great.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A colder air mass began pushing into Ohio Wednesday night, increasing cloudiness over most of the state.

Scattered snow flurries were forecast, especially over the northern counties, but no accumulation is expected.

Early morning temperatures were in the 30s, with Findlay, Mansfield and Cincinnati reporting 31, Columbus 32 and Cleveland 35.

Winds will average 20 to 30 miles per hour today, especially over the northern counties, blowing mainly from the northwest. Clear, cold weather will cover the state tonight, and low readings by Friday morning will range from the upper north to the lower 20s south.

Cloudiness will increase by late Friday as lower pressure approaches the Great Lakes from the west.

Man, 2 Sons Suspended As Attorneys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday suspended three Cleveland attorneys from the practice of law for an indefinite period.

The unanimous decision found Charles Fleck and his sons, Aaron and Sidney, members of the Cleveland firm of Fleck & Fleck, guilty of misconduct by soliciting clients.

The high court acted at the recommendation of its grievance and discipline board on complaints filed by the Cleveland Bar Association.

The association claimed the three attorneys contracted with Truck Drivers' Union Local No. 407 to represent members in state workmen's compensation cases at preferential rates.

The attorneys also were accused of arranging for finance company loans to compensation claimants for counsel fees and then listing the loans as legitimate debts on applications for lump-sum compensation payments.

The court said such maneuvers enabled the counsel "to secretly grasp attorney fees in greater amounts and in less time than provided by law" because the fees never were disclosed or passed upon by the industrial commission.

Final Ruling Awaited In BG Prof's Dispute

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Sherman Stanage, prominent figure in a campus controversy beginning with student demonstrations last Easter, probably will learn next month whether his contract as a faculty member will be renewed.

Stanage appeared before the board of trustees Wednesday at a hearing on his appeal from notice he would not be retained after this school year. The board said it probably will rule Jan. 12.

ETHEL FULLEN

CHS Senior In District Speech Test

Ethel Fullen, 17-year-old Circleville High School senior, will represent Pickaway County in the district Prince of Peace speech contest Jan. 14 in Columbus.

The Auburn - haired representative of the First Methodist Church was named winner on the county level after judges of the local contest declared her the only prospective speaker properly qualified.

Miss Fullen plans to attend a state university as a medical technology student. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Fullen, 299½ W. Main St., and a member of the National Honor Society.

The district competition will be conducted under the sponsorship of the Ohio Council of Churches, J. Albert Clark, chairman. District winners obtain the right to continue to the state level. Miss Fullen will have a prepared text ready for delivery in the January contest.

Robert Ransom, CHS speech and drama instructor, headed the eliminations on a local basis. Valuable awards will be presented to top speakers on the district and state levels.

Glenn Says Capsule Must Hit 'Keyhole'

NEW YORK (AP) — The man designated to make America's first attempt at orbital flight says his capsule will have to hit a "keyhole in the sky" to insure success.

"To hit this keyhole... requires tremendous accuracy in tracking, speed and guidance," said Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. writing in the current issue of Life Magazine.

If things go wrong, he continued, the mission will have to be aborted, the capsule separated from the atlas missile and parachuted back to earth.

Glenn said he expects at some point during the mission to feel "very much on my own," despite the help he'll be getting from thousands of scientists, technicians, industry specialists and recovery people around the globe.

"The reactions will be mine, the mistakes could be mine, and our findings could affect the future of the U.S. man-in-space program," the astronaut wrote.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today, 20 years after the United States got into World War II, optimists like to think this country is winning the third world war, the cold one. Plenty disagree.

American self-examination increases—as the years of struggle with communism stretch out with no end in sight—but always from a single starting point.

How did communism, which could claim only 170 million people in Russia 20 years ago, manage to gather in one billion now extending from Eastern Europe, through Russia, and into Red China and Southeast Asia?

There is no single and no easy answer. Nor is there one to many other questions about this war which is deadly without shooting. For instance: How it started or how it could have been stopped?

In some cases communism was a response to wretched conditions, in some to intrigue, treachery, and military power. It is questionable any single action or series of actions could have choked it off.

Communism is more than just a political or economic system. It is a challenging idea and, like capitalism, almost inevitably would have had to find some way to run its course.

Discontented men, perhaps for centuries, would have discussed it and perhaps tried it again if tomorrow they were crushed by an outside force instead of evolving

Ancient Car

ALLENHURST, N. J. (AP) — A 1921 Briggs and Stratton buckboard owned by Howard Stokes still has plenty of get-up-and-go — and what's more, it gets 90 miles to a gallon of gas.

Stokes, an assistant counselor for an insurance company says the low-slung auto has been in the family since his father bought it in 1926.

"It remained under the porch rusting away for many years," he says, "until I decided to drag it out and get it back in running condition just before World War II."

"To my surprise and just about everyone else who sees it, the buckboard's been running ever since."

into something quite different under its own power.

Capitalistic and communistic dogmatists tend to think of their pet beliefs in absolute terms as if they were unchanging.

Perhaps nearer the truth is the thought capitalism or communism, if tomorrow it ruled the world without opposition, would in time evolve into something unrecognizable today.

And for a simple reason: The history of man is evolutionary and the one predictable thread running through it is that there will be change, subtle or sudden, because of new ideas, new ambitions, or new conditions.

From the moment communism emerged in Russia 44 years ago the most realistic reaction to it might have been not how to top it but how to channel it in a direction more reasonable for the West to live with.

That is exactly what the Western powers are trying to do today. No one today in a responsible position is talking of destroying communism. The emphasis is on how to get it to live as a good neighbor.

Books have been written on how the great chance to overwhelm communism was lost at Yalta, or after the war when this country still had a monopoly on the atomic bomb, or when this country demobilized too fast.

The handwringing could go further back: To American isolation between the two world wars which helped make Hitler possible and, as a result after his destruction, made communist expansion possible.

But the isolationism was only evidence that this country, which emerged as the world leader after World War I, was too unprepared, too unimaginative and too unsophisticated for its role.

The same thing could have been said of it again after World War II when, once more it emerged as world leader and, failing to understand its problems and responsibilities, demobilized too fast.

But this is an endless story. The success of communism today could be blamed on the failure of the capitalistic West to unite and crush the Bolshevik takeover in Russia in 1917.

Beyond that, too, was the failure of the West to try to compel the czar to establish for his people conditions which would have made communism unthinkable.

But the West, except for the United States, was made up of colonial powers who were in no position to preach good treatment of backward people. The West had to learn the hard way and give up its colonies.

And now, by one of the great ironies of history, Communist Russia and Red China, proclaiming their concern for mankind, have become the new colonial masters. They, too, will have to learn the hard way.

Hockman-Miller Wedding Plans Are Completed

Plans have been completed for the approaching wedding of Miss Patricia Kay Hockman to Mr. Ronald E. Miller.

Miss Hockman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hockman, Route 1, and Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller, 126 Pleasant View Ave.

The open church wedding will be an event of December 17, in the First Methodist Church. Vows will be exchanged beginning at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. Paul D. Wachs officiating.

Miss Jane Hockman, student at St. Francis School of Nursing, will be maid-of-honor for her sister. Bridesmaids will be Miss Connie Musselman, Circleville, and Miss Mary K. Williams, Nelsonville, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Miller has selected Mr. Roger Wolfe to serve as best man for the wedding. Ushers will be Mr. Robert McCrady and Mr. Gary Baird, both of Circleville; and Mr. Charles Lawrence and Mr. Tommy Lou, both of Columbus.

Dinner Honors Mrs. Amey, 80

Mrs. Emily Amey, 132 Lewis Ave., celebrated her 80th birthday last night by enjoying a birthday dinner given by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton T. Vaughan, and her eldest grandson, Clayton Vaughan Jr., at the Fox Farm Inn, Chillicothe.

Later, she was surprised by a group of friends at her daughter's home, 427 Northridge Road. Those honoring Mrs. Amey were:

Mrs. Patrick Smyth, Mrs. Edward Grigg, Mrs. Arthur McCoard, Mrs. Enid Denham, Mrs. Fred Howell, Mrs. William Huber, Mrs. David Goldschmidt, Mrs. Minnie Kader, Mrs. Eugene P. Hanson, Miss Pauline E. Roese, Mrs. Dorothy R. Gerhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Vaughan and Clayton Vaughan Jr.

To rehearse rolls, place them in a heavy pan, cover tightly, and put them in a hot oven for about 10 minutes.

Surprise Birthday Party Given for Phyllis Cupp

A surprise birthday party was given for Miss Phyllis Cupp, 1231 S. Pickaway St. in the basement of the Church of the Brethren recently by her Sunday School Class, and her mother.

The basement decorations were blue and white and each table was furnished with a decorative flower display. The gift table was covered in white with yellow streamers, completed with birthday cakes. Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Tom Donahue, Miss Pauline Hall, Doyle Cupp, Mrs. Carl Manson and Mrs. Fred Craig.

Miss Cupp opened her many gifts; and later, refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Edgar Caldwell, Mrs. Rose Helen Martin, Mrs. Grace Kegg, Mrs. Carl Kegg, Christina Kegg, Mrs. Emma Essick, Betty Bowman, Kay Smith, Carolyn Smith, Becky Thompson, Cathy Thompson, Mrs. Allen Trego, Sue Miner, Mrs. Elmer Merriman, Mrs. Carl Manson, David Manson, Mrs. Ed Cupp, Mrs. LeRoy Garrett, David Shirey.

James Starkey, Mrs. Roy Starkey, Brenda Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark, Mrs. James Clark, Mrs. Richard Speakman, Mrs. Arthur Cupp, Carl Cupp, Sam Cupp, Mark Davey, Warren Styers, Ethel Brobst, Mrs. Lela Essick, George Reeser, Sharon Strawser, Mrs. Tom Donahue, Mrs. Fred Craig, Mrs. William Brungs, Treasa Brungs, Steve Brungs, Lynn Sue Hedges, Mrs. James Cupp, Mrs. John Wilkes, Mrs. Harold Dowden, Mrs. Mary Davis, Bonnie Davis, Mrs. Charles Glitt, Miss Sally Binkley and Mr.

and Mrs. Doyle Cupp, parents of the honored guest.

Attending from Columbus were: Mrs. Susan Hall, Miss Marjorie Ann Hall, Miss Pauline Hall, Mrs. Reba Jones and Milt Ward.

Gifts were sent by: Mrs. Ray B. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Blankenship, Mrs. Allen Strawser, Mrs. Floyd Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paxton, Mrs. Barbara Loucks, Merry Kay Glitt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shirey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dowden, Mrs. Charles Rowland, Mrs. Mildred Starkey and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Huffer.

Warren Styers and Milt Ward also celebrated birthdays and were honored with gifts.

DuPont Dance Attended by 600 Persons

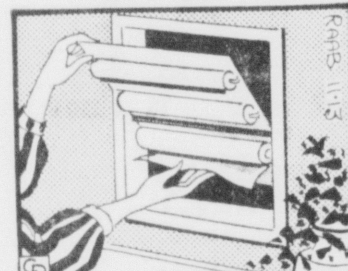

More than 600 couples attended a 50-50 dance Saturday evening in the Pickaway County Fairground coliseum sponsored by the local DuPont Plant for its employees.

The "Music Men" provided music for ballroom dancing. The Carl Posey Band furnished foot-stomping music for square dances.

A buffet supper was served at 10 p. m. from a table decked with autumn floral arrangements.

The huge coliseum was decorated with metalized "Mylar" products from the local DuPont plant.

Science Works At Giving Aid To Astronauts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The push to orbit a U.S. astronaut before the end of the year, some curious facts about space-going chimpanzees, and saving calories in weightlessness are subjects for science at work:
Next!

U.S. Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., at 40 the oldest of the seven American space candidates, may be the first to orbit the earth.

He is now lodged in the astronaut ready room at Cape Canaveral, Fla., waiting for his chance which may come before New Year's Day.

Glenn's quarters in Hangar S on the sprawling missile base are only a few steps away from the area where space-going chimpanzees Enos and Ham were prepared for their space flights. Newer, more complete astronaut quarters are being planned for the cape. Enos and Brethren

Chimpanzees, like Enos and Ham, are mightier than men in many ways.

The men who handle the space chimpanzees say that these apes are 4½ times as strong as men of similar weight. Chimpanzees have been found which stand up to 5½ feet tall, and have an arm spread of 6 feet.

Although the average life span of chimpanzees is usually in the thirties, some have been known to live 45 years. Most of the space chimpanzees are young—5 to 6 years old, and small—about 40 pounds.

Space Diet
An astronaut—gliding in weightlessness through space—will probably need no more than some 2,400 calories a day in meals, a scientist suggests.

At work, the space pilot's efforts that on earth would cost some 216 calories per hour working against gravity, would cost only 144 calories an hour in weightlessness.

Under normal gravity on earth, a space pilot resting, but awake, would use 94 calories an hour, but would use only 85 calories an hour resting and awake without gravity to contend with.

Sleeping, on earth or in space, the cost in calories is about the same—some 85 calories an hour, said Dr. Carshie C. Adams, president of the National Research and Development Corp.

Reserve Bank Says Business Better

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reported that the business scene brightened considerably during late November and that good increases were recorded in the week after Thanksgiving by the most recent barometers of Cleveland business activity.

Sales of new automobiles advanced to 1,778 in the post-holiday week, marking the fifth time this year that volume exceeded the comparable week of last year. November sales were 7,332, setting a new high for the month and up 300 units from the previous November record set a year ago.

Appeal Is Planned For Doomed Youth

CLEVELAND (AP)—Counsel for a convicted Cleveland slayer today was granted permission to appeal the case by the 8th District Court of Appeals.

The three-judge panel said the attorney for Clarence V. Ferguson, 19, would have 30 days in which to file the appeal.

Ferguson, who had been scheduled to die Nov. 10 in the Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair for murder, was granted a stay of execution by Justice Potter Stewart of the U.S. Supreme Court. The purpose of that action was to permit Ferguson's attorney, Edward D. Stanley of Columbus, to file a formal appeal.

Ferguson was convicted of the March 4 holdup-slaying of drug-gist Benjamin Kaufman, 62, in Cleveland. He pleaded innocent originally, but changed his plea to guilty after the first witness testified at his trial.

Soviet Attack Plan Bared by West Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — American intelligence experts believe that if the Soviet Union were to strike in Europe the Soviets would launch sudden, simultaneous nuclear attacks on all of the continent's Western defenses.

The intelligence men expect rapid, deep armored Soviet thrusts would come next.

Once the ground attack was in motion, the Soviets would send in units in waves in an effort to keep their advance moving day and night.

The Russians could be expected to try to maintain constant contact with Allied forces so Western commanders would have to hold their own atomic fire or risk the destruction of their forward troops.

Maj. Gen. A. R. Fitch, the Army's assistant chief of staff for intelligence, sketched current Soviet tactical doctrine earlier this week at a meeting of civilian aides to Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. at Ft. Monroe, Va.

Fitch's talk was confined to an evaluation of Soviet military concepts. He did not comment on moves the United States might make in the event of a Soviet attack on the European allies.

He said Soviet tactical doctrine has been modified to incorporate nuclear weapons delivered by aircraft or missiles, but conventional artillery retains a prominent role.

The emphasis in Soviet tactical planning is on the use of armor, dispersion of forces and mobility, both to exploit Russian nuclear firepower and to minimize casualties from opposing atomic weapons.

Slick Bridge Warning Light Tested in State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The highway department is testing a warning sign that lights up only when a bridge is slippery. A tiny sensor that precisely measures temperature on the bridge floor and detects slight amounts of moisture triggers illumination of the sign.

The motorist will be alerted of icy or wet conditions some distance before he reaches the bridge. The apparatus is being tried initially at six spots around the state.

Galvin Wire Service Ends Tenth Year

Galvin Wire Service, which furnishes this newspaper with state, national and world news, completed ten years of operation today.

Founded Dec. 7, 1951, it is a cooperative venture operated for the five Galvin newspapers of Ohio — The Circleville Herald, Logan Daily News, Van Wert Times-Bulletin, Washington C.H. Record-Herald and Wilmington News-Journal.

Headquarters of the service are in the Circleville Herald Building. Assignment of its staff is to receive, condense, edit and provide headline copy for virtually all of the non-local news which appears in the five newspapers. It is especially alert for non-local news which may have a local interest. But its main assignment is to provide readers with the latest news from around the world.

In its ten years of operation, Galvin Wire Service has activated nearly 50 million lines of type, or enough to fill 36,452 average sized newspaper pages.

Galvin newspapermen who have had occasion to sit in as relief editors of the wire service include William S. Miller of Logan, and Howard Harper and Henry Arline, both of Washington C.H. Gunner Musselman has been editor of the service since its origin.

Think Twice!

DEAR ABBY: When should a man tell his wife all about his financial affairs? Before marriage or after? I am going with a wonderful man (he's a widower and I am a widow) and he has asked me to marry him. He is good to me in every way, but he has one fault. He has tried to convince me that he has no money. It is not possible for a man to live the way he claims he has. He told me he bought his car second-hand when I know he bought it new. He also tried to tell me that his suits are inexpensive ready-mades, when I know he has them tailor-made. I would not be extravagant if I married him, but I resent being deceived. What do you make of it?

RESENTFUL: If your friend thought as much of you as his bankroll, he wouldn't be trying to kid you. Don't expect him to improve after marriage. His type usually gets worse.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who has been going with this guy for the last year. She told me this morning that they planned to get married eventually but no date has been set yet. Then she said she hoped it would be soon because she thinks she is expecting. What kind of a wedding should she have under the circumstances?

SISTER: A quick one!

DEAR ABBY: My boss has lost three secretaries in the past eight months because his wife insists on letting their 3-year-old child call him on the telephone all day long. I wouldn't mind it once in a while, but the wife dials the number and, without asking for her husband, she hands the phone to the child and goes off somewhere. All I hear is "da da, da-dee, da-dee" until I am about to go crazy. How can a girl get her work done? And when there are people in the office waiting for the boss, it is a joke. If this keeps up Secretary Number Four will be looking for another job.

TELEPHONE NURSEMAID: Tell your boss that the calls from home are interfering with your secretarial routine and suggest he shape up his home front. If he doesn't do it, follow the three wise women.

DEAR ABBY: The letter about the young girl correcting older people's English reminded me of something that happened years ago.

I was in the company of several older people and a young high school girl, who kept correcting their English. Finally, a sweet little elderly retired school teacher leaned over and whispered something into the young girl's ear. She was as quiet as a mouse after that. I later asked the girl what the elderly lady told her. It was: "My child, it is better to have good manners than good English."

HOTTEST NOVEMBER IN FORD HISTORY!

And here's what started the heat wave!

Last month more Americans bought Fords than in any November in history. The blazing success of the long Ford line was end-to-end, all across the country and up and down it, too. ■ Everywhere the people flocked into their Ford Dealers and bought smart new Falcons, and the new Falcon Squire, the glittering swift Galaxies, the famous Ford Station Wagons and the hot Thunderbirds. And they poured in to see and buy up the brand-new Fairlanes just introduced. ■ There are four magic reasons-why behind the smashing success of the long Ford line for 1962. First of all is utterly modern styling, the fresh crisp lines that are now being so widely copied by other car-makers, the smart look that dominates the industry. Second is absolute power in eleven kinds of engines, giving you anything you could want in engine options. Third is total economy—every Ford model is priced directly at your pocketbook, and every Ford, large, medium or small, gives you gasoline mileage outstanding in its class. Fourth is the service-saving concept—every Ford car is built to cut down maintenance worries and problems, with service-saving features other cars may have some day. ■ Ford leadership from Falcons to Thunderbirds is founded on trend-setting innovations... The hot ideas come from Ford. And at the heart of Ford success is an almost revolutionary new concept of quality... most serious and direct concern with the actual part-by-part quality. For the hot trends in the hot cars, for a new experience in quality, and for the best buys on the American Road, see your Ford Dealer.

NOW THERE ARE FOUR CLASSES OF CARS ...AND ONLY FORD HAS ALL FOUR!

COMPACT CLASS:

FORD FALCON

This class includes cars with 103- to 114-inch wheelbase. Most popular by far (a million happy owners!) is the Ford Falcon. Falcon is America's lowest-priced* 6-passenger car, set a 25-year record for Sixes or Eights in last spring's Mobilgas Economy Run, gives you a choice of 13 models, including the Futura and new Falcon Squire wagon.

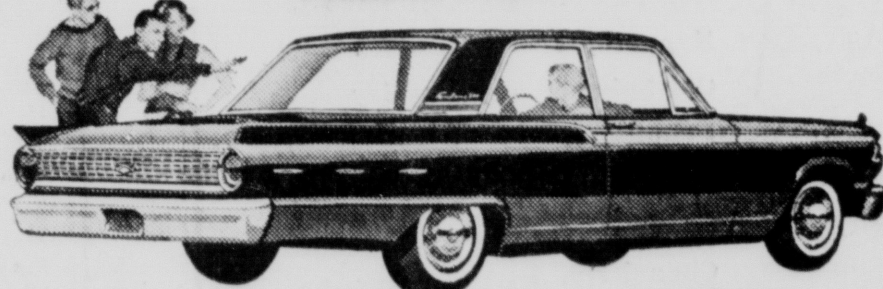

FULL-SIZE CLASS:

GALAXIE BY FORD

The class for families who want big car comfort, performance and prestige. Value leader is the Ford Galaxie—which has every essential feature of far costlier fine cars. With the optional Thunderbird 390 V-8 engine, a Galaxie will outperform America's most expensive luxury cars. Requires servicing only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

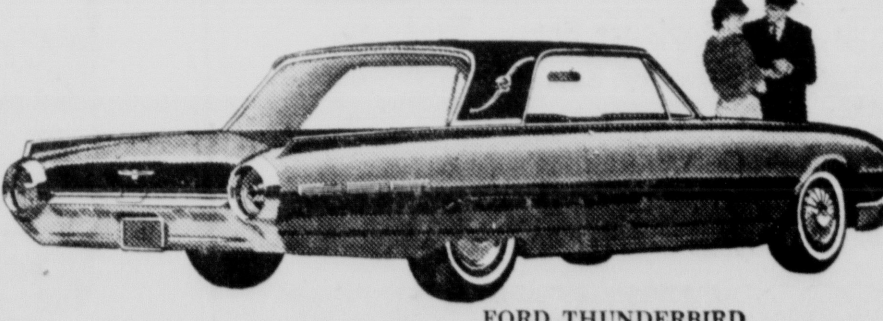

FAIRLANE CLASS:

FORD FAIRLANE

The Ford Fairlane is the first member of a new class which combines the advantages of both compacts and big cars... you get big car room, ride and performance... compact savings and maneuverability. Priced below many compacts, Fairlane even rivals some in gas economy. Has twice-a-year maintenance introduced by the Galaxie.

LUXURY CLASS:

FORD THUNDERBIRD

The top class—cars for people who want the very finest. First of the trim-size luxury cars, the 4-passenger Thunderbird is the most distinctive car in this class. Its styling set the trend for an entire generation of cars and now finds a new elegance in the Landau. And Thunderbird's performance is just this side of flight.

Soviet Attack Plan Bared by West Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — American intelligence experts believe that if the Soviet Union were to strike in Europe the Soviets would launch sudden, simultaneous nuclear attacks on all of the continent's Western defenses.

The intelligence men expect rapid, deep armored Soviet thrusts would come next.

Once the ground attack was in motion, the Soviets would send in units in waves in an effort to keep their advance moving day and night.

The Russians could be expected to try to maintain constant contact with Allied forces so Western commanders would have to hold their own atomic fire or risk the destruction of their forward troops.

Maj. Gen. A. R. Fitch, the Army's assistant chief of staff for intelligence, sketched current Soviet tactical doctrine earlier this week at a meeting of civilian aides to Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. at Ft. Monroe, Va.

Fitch's talk was confined to an evaluation of Soviet military concepts. He did not comment on moves the United States might make in the event of a Soviet attack on the European allies.

He said Soviet tactical doctrine has been modified to incorporate nuclear weapons, delivered by aircraft or missiles, but conventional artillery retains a prominent role.

The emphasis in Soviet tactical planning is on the use of armor, dispersion of forces and mobility, both to exploit Russian nuclear firepower and to minimize casualties from opposing atomic weapons.

Slick Bridge Warning Light Tested in State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The highway department is testing a warning sign that lights up only when a bridge is slippery. A tiny sensor that precisely measures temperature on the bridge floor and detects slight amounts of moisture triggers illumination of the sign.

The motorist will be alerted of icy or wet conditions some distance before he reaches the bridge. The apparatus is being tried initially at six spots around the state.

Beauty Bright Equals Delight To Home Girls

'Tis the season to be jolly, and a group of local beauticians have gotten into the Christmas spirit early this year, giving the girls of the Pickaway County Children's Home the best present imaginable — new hairdos to brighten appearances and win compliments during the holiday time.

Three members of Unit 21 of the Ohio Cosmetologists Association, which includes this area, arrived at the Home on Route 22 last night armed with clippers, combs and plenty of enthusiasm.

After dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Koch, superintendents, the trio of uniformed women set up a professional-looking shop in the Home's second floor hallway.

Most of the girls, though shy at all the sudden attention at first, quickly warmed to the spirit of things and competed eagerly with each other to gain the most resplendent coiffure.

CARRYING OUT the project as part of the OCA's year-round community service program were Mrs. Eloise Ford of Eloise Beauty Salon, Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson of Mi Lady's Beauty Shop and Mrs. Mary Pierce of Mary's Beauty Salon. The local unit will be given statewide recognition by the Association for its efforts.

The Home girls, peeking happily into nearby mirrors and brushing their newly-acquired beauty gently with their fingertips, found it the nicest way of all to receive a Christmas gift.

New Year's Eve Liquor Law Cited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New Year's eve celebrations in Ohio liquor spots, for the most part, can start at midnight on Sunday, Dec. 31, the liquor department reported today.

The department gave this explanation of the regulations: Except where municipal (local) ordinance would prohibit start of liquor sales at midnight, liquor permit holders can operate according to the hours detailed in their respective licenses.

Thus holders of night club (D-5) permits can operate from midnight to 2:30 a.m. Monday, and also holders of D-3 A permits. Other retail permit holders can remain open from midnight to 1 a.m.

Logan Elm Grange met in regular session with Worthy Master Wayne Jones in charge.

The Grange voted to contribute to the Pickaway County Tuberculosis Society.

Appointed to the community service committee were: Mrs. Hoyt Timmons, chairman; Lawrence McKenzie and Philip Wilson.

The covered-dish Christmas supper will start 6:30 p.m. December 19 in Pickaway School. A gift exchange will follow the supper.

The following program was presented by Mrs. Charles Boldoser: Peggy Wilson played a piano solo, "Hungarian Dance No. 5"; Mrs. Vera Miller read a Christmas story, "Child Shall Lead Them"; Mrs. Charles Boldoser read a poem, "The Real Delinquent".

Contests followed the program.

Derby News

The Derby MYF group met at the church on Sunday evening. Members seek donations of usable toys and clothes for distribution at Christmas time.

Mrs. Virgie Higgins spent Sunday afternoon visiting with her sister, Mrs. Florence Tracy.

The Blissful Class of Derby held its Christmas meeting on Wednesday evening in Fellowship Hall with a covered dish supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jay Gosard are the parents of twin daughters, Terry May and Sherry Kay, born in Doctor's Hospital, Columbus on Nov. 30. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Spangler. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Loren Gosard of Mt. Sterling.

Miss Grace Minshall accompanied by Helen Neff of Columbus visited with Mrs. Dell Speight of Roberts Nursing Home and Mrs. Carrie Hill at her home, last Wednesday.

On Friday a bridal shower was given by Mrs. Kerwin Durlinger, Mrs. Eldon Ridgeway and Miss Nancy Smith. It was given for Miss Patty Sweet of Mt. Sterling for her coming marriage on Dec. 16, to Mr. Douglas Woods, also of Mt. Sterling. It was at the home of Mrs. Durlinger.

Foster Hall is still a patient at Veterans' Hospital where he underwent surgery. Cards or letters may be sent to Mr. Albert Foster Hall, Brown Hospital, OAC, Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Clayton Whitlock is a patient in University Hospital, Columbus. Cards and letters will be welcomed.

Newcomers to Derby are Mr.

and Mrs. Junior Woods and baby son who moved here from Darbyville the past week.

The Cheerio Class of Derby will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Smith on Dec. 13. There will be a gift exchange.

Mrs. Nelle Bauhan spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hill of Williamsport.

Columbusite Named To Head Sheriffs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Stacy Hall, sheriff of Franklin County, is the new president of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association.

Hall was named to the post as the association ended its convention here Tuesday. He succeeds Sheriff Thomas Fasula of Ashtabula County. Fasula was named trustee-at-large.

The association also elected these other sheriffs to offices: J. Arthur Shuman of Clark County as executive secretary; Harley Wornstaff of Delaware County, first vice president; V. D. McAlister of Wyandot County, second vice president, and Fred Heinzelman of Ross County, to the board of trustees.

New Year's Eve Liquor Law Cited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New Year's eve celebrations in Ohio liquor spots, for the most part, can start at midnight on Sunday, Dec. 31, the liquor department reported today.

The department gave this explanation of the regulations:

Except where municipal (local) ordinance would prohibit start of liquor sales at midnight, liquor permit holders can operate according to the hours detailed in their respective licenses.

Thus holders of night club (D-5) permits can operate from midnight to 2:30 a.m. Monday, and also holders of D-3-A permits. Other retail permit holders can remain open from midnight to 1 a.m.

Several Coaches Fired,
Others May Get Boot

NEW YORK (AP) — The old-fashioned party game of musical chairs again is in full swing among the college football coaches.

Several already have been given the heave-ho, victims of alumni who tolerate nothing short of success, and others have quit. The jobs of a dozen others are hanging by a slender thread.

The 1962 season will find new head coaches at Southern Methodist, Texas A&M, Nebraska, Tulane, Mississippi State, Houston, Colorado State University, Texas Western, Xavier (Ohio), Iowa Wesleyan, Upsala and Wayne (Neb.) State.

Among the more prominent coaches reported on the grid are Dale Hall at Army, John Steigman of Pennsylvania and Lynn Howland of Washington University (St. Louis).

One of the bitterest partings was that between Jim Myers of Texas A&M. "It was like being in a small clearing with just enough food to stay alive, and having all kinds of animals around you," said Myers of his four lean years at the Texas school.

Reports are that Jim Owens, Washington head coach and former aide to Bear Bryant at Texas A&M, is in line for the job.

Bill Meek, who had five more years to go at Southern Methodist on a contract paying $17,500 annually, was released after winning only 17 of 67 games. There is no word of his possible replacement. Jim Larue of Arizona is said to have the inside track.

Stoutsville '5' Paces Men's League Play

Stoutsville's Merchants stand alone at the top of the Pickaway County Industrial League basketball heap as the only undefeated team to have played more than one game.

The Merchants, utilizing an air-tight defense, dumped Anchor Hocking of Lancaster 42-27 in a Tuesday night game at the Fairgrounds Coliseum for their second win in a row. It was the All crew's first defeat.

Leading the winners in their leap to the forefront of the loop scramble were Collins and Reinhold, who plopped in 23 points between them. Anchor Hocking's best showings were six-point performances by Brown, Mann, Beaucher and Echard.

In other games Steward hit 22 tallies to lead the VFW cagers to a 76-56 win over Hunsicker's Elevator. Both teams now hold 1-1 records. Backing up Steward were McConnell and Cherrie with 14 each and Washington with 12 points. Tucker topped the Elevator squad with 16 counters on eight field goals.

THE SCIOTO Elks also evened their record at 1-1 with a hard-fought 56-47 win over Williamsport's Merchants. Big man for the winners was Lewis with a booming 27 markers on 13 field goals and one free throw.

The Elks pulled away for their margin in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter.

Browns Practice For Lowly Bears

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will try to continue their mastery over the Chicago Bears when the two teams meet in Chicago Sunday afternoon.

Cleveland has won all three of the regular season games played against the Bears over the years and has scored no less than 39 points in any one of the games.

The Browns also know they must win to keep in the running for the National Football League's eastern division title. They are one game behind the New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles, who are tied for the lead, with only two games remaining. The Giants and Eagles tangle in Philadelphia Sunday.

Cleveland is in top physical condition with rookie halfback Tom Watkins ready to play again after suffering a shoulder separation several weeks ago.

Mabricio Ventura set a Michigan State scoring record with 22 goals in soccer last season.

Football Star Mum on Career

Davis Seeks To Avoid
Tie to Racial Dispute

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernie Davis says he's not interested in becoming a guinea pig in a professional football racial dispute.

"I wish they would quit bringing up this race stuff," the Syracuse University halfback said today. "I don't want to be another Jackie Robinson. I just want to play football, and I'll go where I can get the best offer."

The 210-pound Davis Wednesday night became the first Negro in 27 years to receive the Heisman Trophy as the best college player of the year.

Now he finds himself the pawn in a giant tug-of-war between the National and American Football Leagues on the one hand and the government and George Marshall's Washington Redskins on the other.

Davis was the first pick of the Redskins after Marshall, whose teams have been picketed by racial groups, was given a stiff warning by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall. Marshall was told he must hire a Negro player to prove himself innocent of discriminatory practices.

The Redskins are the only NFL team that has never had a Negro player.

The Syracuse halfback also was drafted by the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League. He says he has been contacted also by several Canadian teams, with Calgary making a particularly good offer.

On top of this, Harry Wismer, owner of the New York Titans, insists that he will make every effort to get the rights to Davis from Buffalo and will pay Ernie $100,000 for three years, plus a $25,000 bonus.

Asked about the different offer, Davis was noncommittal but said he was interested.

The sire of Papia, Crimson Satan's dam, was Requebro who won the Argentine Derby at one mile and a half. Crimson Satan won The Garden State at one mile and a sixteenth.

62 Points in 20 Minutes Give Buck Cagers Old Look

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State, after playing 1 1/2 games of comparatively sluggish and dull basketball, looked like the Buckeyes of old in the second half Wednesday night. They scored 62 points in the 20-minute period to swamp Pittsburgh 99-79.

The victory, however, appears to be a costly one. Two-time All-America Jerry Lucas limped into the dressing room with a recurrence of knee trouble which has plagued him for years.

"They were worse tonight than they've ever been. They are swollen and inflamed," Big Luke said.

"I don't know if I'll be playing this weekend," the 6-foot-8 senior said. "I'll have to talk to the trainer." The Bucks met Wichita Friday and third-ranked Wake Forest Saturday.

Lucas, however, didn't show his ailment during the game.

Limited to only 11 points in the Ohio State opener against Florida State and scoring only five through the first half Wednesday night, Lucas sparked the top-ranked Bucks in their second-half explosion, scoring 18 points to wind up the night with 23.

Pitt's Ben Jinks took the scoring honors, however, with 28 points.

Elsewhere on a 13-game Ohio basketball card:

Bowling Green, indicating it is shooting the works this year, downed perennially tough Canisius with relative ease, 74-66. The Falcons, loaded with talent, opened the season defeating Bradley handily and crushed Hillsdale Monday.

Dayton's towering Flyers used their height for a raft of tip-ins which swamped Toledo 72-57. The Flyers had two starters measuring 6-foot-10 and two others at 6-foot-6. Again the losers got the high-point honors when Toledo's

Larry Jones scored 29 points.

Xavie, another of the state's usually tough cage customers, notched its second victory with an easy 94-47 triumph over Marian of Indianapolis.

Ohio Northern and Defiance each posted its first victory in the Mid-Ohio League. The Polar Bears defeated Ashland 67-57 to even their loop mark at 1-1 and Defiance dumped Bluffton (0-2), 83-68.

In the only other conference game, sub Sean Whalen and Freddie Prime scored 55 points between them to lead Wayne State to an 87-75 Presidents' Conference victory over John Carroll. Whalen had 28 of the total.

In other games, Kent State (1-1) walloped Baldwin-Wallace (0-2) 79-59. Mount Union downed West Liberty (W.Va.) 56-51. Marietta posted its first win in two starts in an 86-71 triumph over West Virginia Wesleyan. Youngstown dropped Geneva (Pa.) 83-70. Pikeville edged Steubenville 58-57, and Bliss downed Wilberforce 83-62.

Juniors, Freshmen Aim for 2nd Wins

Circleville's junior high and freshmen basketball teams will return to action tonight, taking on Lancaster.

Leading the winners in their leap to the forefront of the loop scramble were Collins and Reinhold, who plopped in 23 points between them. Anchor Hocking's best showings were six-point performances by Brown, Mann, Beaucher and Echar.

In other games Steward hit 22 tallies to lead the VFW cagers to a 76-56 win over Hunsicker's Elevator. Both teams now hold 1-1 records. Backing up Steward were McConnell and Cherrie with 14 each and Washington with 12 points. Tucker topped the Elevator squad with 16 counters on eight field goals.

THE SCIOTO Elks also evened their record at 1-1 with a hard-fought 56-47 win over Williamsport's Merchants. Big man for the winners was Lewis with a booming 27 markers on 13 field goals and one free throw.

The Elks pulled away for their margin in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter.

Schedule Mixup
Costs Ashville Tilt
Ashville's scoring guns will be spiked Saturday night—but the chances for another Bronco victory will not be in the least damaged — merely delayed.

Due to a scheduling mixup previously unnoticed, the contest slated at Pleasantville has been cancelled. By mutual agreement the two teams will drop the game from their schedules.

Greaves, Sugar Trade Hot Words

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Judging by the verbal jibes emanating from the camps of Sugar Ray Robinson and Wilf Greaves, their return 10-round middleweight fight Friday night at the Civic Auditorium shapes up as a real brawl.

"I have come to fight—and win," the ageless Robinson told a news conference Wednesday.

"I hope Robinson is coming to fight because I'll be fighting all the way," said Greaves, who lost a split decision to the 40-year-old "Sugar Man" in Detroit last Sept. 25.

Cincy Mayor Asks Talks On Riverfront Stadium

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mayor Walton Bachrach has asked five city councilmen to confer with the county commission and interested officials of Northern Kentucky and private business on a proposed Ohio riverfront baseball stadium for the Cincinnati Reds.

Michigan State started cross country competition in 1907 with an intramural race.

Browns Practice For Lowly Bears

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will try to continue their mastery over the Chicago Bears when the two teams meet in Chicago Sunday afternoon.

Cleveland has won all three of the regular season games played against the Bears over the years and has scored no less than 39 points in any one of the games.

The Browns also know they must win to keep in the running for the National Football League's eastern division title. They are one game behind the New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles, who are tied for the lead, with only two games remaining. The Giants and Eagles tangle in Philadelphia Sunday.

Cleveland is in top physical condition with rookie halfback Tom Watkins ready to play again after suffering a shoulder separation several weeks ago.

Mabricio Ventura set a Michigan State scoring record with 22 goals in soccer last season.

Football Star Mum on Career

Davis Seeks To Avoid
Tie to Racial Dispute

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernie Davis says he's not interested in becoming a guinea pig in a professional football racial dispute.

"I wish they would quit bringing up this race stuff," the Syracuse University halfback said today. "I don't want to be another Jackie Robinson. I just want to play football, and I'll go where I can get the best offer."

The 210-pound Davis Wednesday night became the first Negro in 27 years to receive the Heisman Trophy as the best college player of the year.

Now he finds himself the pawn in a giant tug-of-war between the National and American Football Leagues on the one hand and the government and George Marshall's Washington Redskins on the other.

Davis was the first pick of the Redskins after Marshall, whose teams have been picketed by racial groups, was given a stiff warning by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall. Marshall was told he must hire a Negro player to prove himself innocent of discriminatory practices.

The Redskins are the only NFL team that has never had a Negro player.

The Syracuse halfback also was drafted by the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League. He says he has been contacted also by several Canadian teams, with Calgary making a particularly good offer.

On top of this, Harry Wismer, owner of the New York Titans, insists that he will make every effort to get the rights to Davis from Buffalo and will pay Ernie $100,000 for three years, plus a $25,000 bonus.

Asked about the different offers, Davis was noncommittal but said he was interested.

62 Points in 20 Minutes Give Buck Cagers Old Look

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State, after playing 1 1/2 games of comparatively sluggish and dull basketball, looked like the Buckeyes of old in the second half Wednesday night. They scored 62 points in the 20-minute period to swamp Pittsburgh 99-79.

The victory, however, appears to be a costly one. Two-time All-America Jerry Lucas limped into the dressing room with a recurrence of knee trouble which has plagued him for years.

"They were worse tonight than they've ever been. They are swollen and inflamed," Big Luke said. "I don't know if I'll be playing this weekend," the 6-foot-8 senior said. "I'll have to talk to the trainer."

The Bucks meet Wichita Friday and third-ranked Wake Forest Saturday.

Lucas, however, didn't show his ailment during the game.

Limited to only 11 points in the Ohio State opener against Florida State and scoring only five through the first half Wednesday night, Lucas sparked the top-ranked Bucks in their second-half explosion, scoring 18 points to wind up the night with 23.

Pitt's Ben Jinks took the scoring honors, however, with 28 points.

Elsewhere on a 13-game Ohio basketball card:

Bowling Green, indicating it is shooting the works this year, downed perennially tough Canisius with relative ease, 74-66. The Falcons, loaded with talent, opened the season defeating Bradley handily and crushed Hillsdale Monday.

Dayton's towering Flyers used their height for a raft of tip-ins which swamped Toledo 72-57. The Flyers had two starters measuring 6-foot-10 and two others at 6-foot-6. Again the losers got the high-point honors when Toledo's

Larry Jones scored 29 points. Xavie, another of the state's usually tough cage customers, notched its second victory with an easy 94-47 triumph over Marian of Indianapolis.

Ohio Northern and Defiance each posted its first victory in the Mid-Ohio League. The Polar Bears defeated Ashland 67-57 to even their loop mark at 1-1 and Defiance dumped Bluffton (0-2), 83-66.

In the only other conference game, sub Sean Whalen and Freddie Prime scored 55 points between them to lead Wayne State to an 87-75 Presidents' Conference victory over John Carroll. Whalen had 28 of the total.

In other games, Kent State (1-1) walloped Baldwin-Wallace (0-2) 79-59; Mount Union downed West Liberty (W.Va.) 56-51; Marietta posted its first win in two starts in an 86-71 triumph over West Virginia Wesleyan; Youngstown dropped Geneva (Pa.) 83-70; Pikeville edged Steubenville 58-57, and Bliss downed Wilberforce 83-62.

Juniors, Freshmen Aim for 2nd Wins

Circleville's junior high and freshmen basketball teams will return to action tonight, taking on Lancaster Thomas Ewing in a hoop doubleheader billed to start about 4 p. m. in the CHS gymnasium.

The juniors get first crack at the visitors, with the frosh tilt starting at approximately 5 p. m. Both teams will be gunning for second straight victories after turning back Lancaster Sherman in a similar twinbill last Thursday.

N&W Seeks AC&Y Stock

The Board of Directors of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railroad Company today approved and agreed to recommend to stockholders a proposal by the Norfolk and Western Railway Company to purchase all outstanding AC&Y stock.

In a joint announcement, Stuart T. Saunders, N&W president, and H. B. Stewart, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of the AC&Y, said that the N&W has offered $6.5 million for all outstanding AC&Y stock. The proposal is contingent upon acceptance by holders of 80 per cent of AC&Y common stock and approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission of N&W acquisition of the AC&Y, as well as the N&W's pending unionization plans including the Nickel Plate and Washburn railroads.

AC&Y has agreed to withdraw its petition for inclusion in the proposed unification of the N&W, Nickel Plate and Washburn. The N&W has agreed that it will make a prompt application to the ICC for authority to acquire control of the AC&Y. The Akron, Canton and Youngstown extends 171 miles between Delphos, Ohio (near Lima) and Mogadore, 7.6 miles east of Akron. All of its mileage is within the State of Ohio. The principal city served is Akron, but the railroad connects at four points with the Nickel Plate Road, which serves Canton.

It also connects at Chatfield with the Sandusky Line of the Pennsylvania, which the N&W is seeking to purchase as a part of its enlarged system.

MARION, O. — General Telephone Co. of Ohio, has set up a new service that it hopes customers will never have to use.

This new operation is called the "service department," the place to report a telephone out of order. It will replace "repair service" in next year's directories.

Company spokesmen said results of studies show that on the average a phone requires service about once every two years. This is about four months longer than in 1958, the year the studies were started.

The company feels that since many cases of reported trouble do not require actual repairs, "repair service" is a misnomer. In fact, a high percentage stem from something like a receiver on a party line left off the hook.

Storm damage and telephone poles toppled by out-of-control vehicles are other big causes of trouble calls, spokesmen noted.

Rites . . .

of the Marines to survive the Dec. 7 attack.

The ceremony was signalled by the sound of carillon chimes from Ford Island, followed by a Navy bugler's call to colors. The American flag was run up the Arizona flagpole, as it is each day.

The Arizona is entitled to fly the flag because of its unique position as the only retired ship in the Navy still commissioned. She is regarded as a member of the fleet because her crew is aboard.

An invocation and hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee"—long associated with sea tragedies—preceded Sides' address. As he finished, a Navy chaplain, Capt. Fred D. Bennett, offered a memorial prayer and a band played the Navy hymn, "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

Flowers were cast on the waters over the Arizona and floral wreaths were arranged on the platform.

Sides drew a parallel between America's military preparedness today and a generation ago, citing the unified Pacific Command which bosses all Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine units. "Readiness is the key," he said, "and constant training is the watchword."

He added: "No longer are large concentrations of ships seen in this harbor—ships are in and out, a few at a time, on their way to and from their forward positions. Yet with all this, we must always maintain our vigilance and we must never relax our guard."

Rotary Party Slated Tonight

Circleville Rotarians will gather tonight at the St. Philip's Church Parish House for their annual Rotary-Ann Party.

The event will start at 6:30. No regular noon luncheon meeting was scheduled today at the BPO Elks Lodge.

Business Briefs

Employees of the South Central Rural Electric Co-operative will observe their Christmas party tomorrow night.

The office at 159 E. Franklin St. will close at 5 p. m. for the event. The normal closing hour on Friday is 9 p. m.

Council Unit Holds Meeting

Members of P and D Council No. 20 met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conrad, Atlanta, for their November meeting. "Farm Bureau's Place in Changing Communities" was the subject of discussion.

One spokesman stated, "Part time farming is on the increase with many farmers and farm wives working in cities. Also there is a great increase of rural residents who work in cities."

Questionnaires on "Ohio's Future in Land and Water Resources" were completed during the meeting and Topic Guides were discussed and checked.

Euchre prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ruby Belnap, Richard Belnap, Hoyt Martin and Mrs. Virginia Morris.

REFRESHMENTS were served to Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Ater, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Belnap, Mr. and Mrs. William Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conrad and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris.

The December meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Skinner. A gift exchange will be featured.

Pipes, were respected symbols used only on special occasions. One end was usually decorated with the head of a bird. Colored feathers were added for special meanings—red for war, green for peace or a conduct.

Kennedy . . .

breadlines. There is no need for this nation to go through another recession with large pools of manpower in need of work standing around in large numbers of communities in need of public improvements.

Kennedy declared discrimination in hiring and firing "makes no sense at all" to a convention which faces a possible civil rights quarrel. A council of Negro unionists headed by A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, has complained of discriminatory practices and charges the federation leadership with widening a gap between organized labor and Negroes.

AFL-CIO President George Meany this week promised steps to improve relations with the council.

Placing his administration "fully on the side" of equal opportunities, Kennedy said: "And as we move forward in the realm of public policy, it is essential that the private policies of management and labor meet this common obligation to human dignity."

Kennedy put in new plugs for legislation that Congress turned down or bypassed but which comes up again next year. He mentioned specifically federal aid for school construction and teacher salaries, medical care for the aged through the Social Security system, employment opportunities for youth, retraining of unemployed workers and tax incentives to encourage plant expansion and improvement.

OSU President Offers Change in School Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Novice G. Fawcett of Ohio State University has asked the

Liquor Markup Rule Is Voided

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio Department of Liquor Control regulation requiring a 25 per cent markup on carry-out sales of beer and malt beverages has been ruled void.

The 10th District Court of Appeals made the ruling Tuesday, reversing a common pleas court decision.

The appeals court said the new regulation was not properly adopted because newspaper notices of hearings on it did not mention that the regulation called for a minimum markup. The judges also pointed out that the record contained nothing to indicate the effective date of the regulation or that a certified copy was filed with the secretary of state.

Presenting his ideas "only for discussion and not for (immediate) action," Fawcett listed these advantages of an academic year divided into three parts instead of four:

Fewer years in undergraduate school before a student can enter a professional school.

Increased and more economical use of dormitories.
A longer employment period for students working to help finance their education.
Regular use of faculty and facilities for 11 months instead of the present nine.
Salary increases of 25-33 per cent for faculty working all three trimesters, with those engaged in research eligible for one trimester's leave with full pay every three years.

N&W Seeks AC&Y Stock

The Board of Directors of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railroad Company today approved and agreed to recommend to stockholders a proposal by the Norfolk and Western Railway Company to purchase all outstanding AC&Y stock.

In a joint announcement, Stuart T. Saunders, N&W president, and H. B. Stewart, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of the AC&Y, said that the N&W has offered $6.5 million for all outstanding AC&Y stock. The proposal is contingent upon acceptance by holders of 80 per cent of AC&Y common stock and approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission of N&W acquisition of the AC&Y, as well as the N&W's pending unification plans including the Nickel Plate and Wabash railroads.

AC&Y has agreed to withdraw its petition for inclusion in the proposed unification of the N&W, Nickel Plate and Wabash. The N&W has agreed that it will make a prompt application to the ICC for authority to acquire control of the AC&Y.

The Akron, Canton and Youngstown extends 171 miles between Delphos, Ohio (near Lima) and Mogadore, 7.6 miles east of Akron. All of its mileage is within the State of Ohio. The principal city served is Akron, but the railroad connects at four points with the Nickel Plate Road, which serves Canton.

It also connects at Chatfield with the Sandusky Line of the Pennsylvania, which the N&W is seeking to purchase as a part of its enlarged system.

MARION, O. — General Telephone Co. of Ohio, has set up a new service that it hopes customers will never have to use.

This new operation is called the "service department," the place to report a telephone out of order. It will replace "repair service" in next year's directories.

Company spokesmen said results of studies show that on the average a phone requires service about once every two years. This is about four months longer than in 1958, the year the studies were started.

The company feels that since many cases of reported trouble do not require actual repairs, "repair service" is a misnomer. In fact, a high percentage stem from something like a receiver on a party line left off the hook.

Storm damage and telephone poles toppled by out-of-control vehicles are other big causes of trouble calls, spokesmen noted.

Rites . . .

of the Marines to survive the Dec. 7 attack.

The ceremony was signalled by the sound of carillon chimes from Ford Island, followed by a Navy bugler's call to colors. The American flag was run up the Arizona flagpole, as it is each day.

The Arizona is entitled to fly the flag because of its unique position as the only retired ship in the Navy still commissioned. She is regarded as a member of the fleet because her crew is aboard.

An invocation and hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee"—long associated with sea tragedies—preceded Sides' address. As he finished, a Navy chaplain, Capt. Fred D. Bennett, offered a memorial prayer and a hand played the Navy hymn, "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

Flowers were cast on the waters over the Arizona and floral wreaths were arranged on the platform.

Sides drew a parallel between America's military preparedness today and a generation ago, citing the unified Pacific Command which bosses all Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine units. "Readiness is the key," he said, "and constant training is the watchword."

He added: "No longer are large concentrations of ships seen in this harbor—ships are in and out, a few at a time, on their way to and from their forward positions. Yet with all this, we must always maintain our vigilance and we must never relax our guard."

Rotary Party Slated Tonight

Circleville Rotarians will gather tonight at the St. Philip's Church Parish House for their annual Rotary-Ann Party.

The event will start at 6:30. No regular noon luncheon meeting was scheduled today at the BPO Elks Lodge.

Business Briefs

Employees of the South Central Rural Electric Co-Operative will observe their Christmas party tomorrow night.

The office at 159 E. Franklin St. will close at 5 p. m. for the event. The normal closing hour on Friday is 9 p. m.

Council Unit Holds Meeting

Members of P and D Council No. 20 met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conrad, Atlanta, for their November meeting. "Farm Bureau's Place in Changing Communities" was the subject of discussion.

One spokesman stated, "Part time farming is on the increase with many farmers and farm wives working in cities. Also there is a great increase of rural residents who work in cities."

Questionnaires on "Ohio's Future in Land and Water Resources" were completed during the meeting and Topic Guides were discussed and checked.

Euchre prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ruby Belnap, Richard Belnap, Hoyt Martin and Mrs. Virginia Morris.

REFRESHMENTS were served to Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Ater, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Belnap, Mr. and Mrs. William Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conrad and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris.

The December meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Skinner. A gift exchange will be featured.

breadlines. There is no need for this nation to go through another recession with large pools of manpower in need of work standing around in large numbers of communities in need of public improvements.

Kennedy declared discrimination in hiring and firing "makes no sense at all" to a convention which faces a possible civil rights quarrel. A council of Negro unionists headed by A. Phillip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, has complained of discriminatory practices and charged the federation leadership with widening a gap between organized labor and Negroes.

AFL-CIO President George Meany this week promised steps to improve relations with the council.

Placing his administration "fully on the side" of equal opportunities, Kennedy said: "And as we move forward in the realm of public policy, it is essential that the private policies of management and labor meet this common obligation to human dignity."

Kennedy put in new plugs for legislation that Congress turned down or bypassed but which comes up again next year. He mentioned specifically federal aid for school construction and teacher salaries, medical care for the aged through the Social Security system, employment opportunities for youth, retraining of unemployed workers and tax incentives to encourage plant expansion and improvement.

OSU President Offers Change in School Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Novice G. Fawcett of Ohio State University has asked the

Liquor Markup Rule Is Voided

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Department of Liquor Control regulation requiring a 25 per cent markup on carry-out sales of beer and malt beverages has been ruled void.

The 10th District Court of Appeals made the ruling Tuesday, reversing a common pleas court decision.

The appeals court said the new regulation was not properly adopted because newspaper notices of hearings on it did not mention that the regulation called for a minimum markup. The judges also pointed out that the record contained nothing to indicate the effective date of the regulation or that a certified copy was filed with the secretary of state.

Presenting his ideas "only for discussion and not for (immediate) action," Fawcett listed these advantages of an academic year divided into three parts instead of four:

Fewer years in undergraduate

school before a student can enter a professional school.

Increased and more economical use of dormitories.

A longer employment period for students working to help finance their education.

Regular use of faculty and facilities for 11 months instead of the present nine.

Salary increases of 25-33 per cent for faculty working all three trimesters, with those engaged in research eligible for one trimester's leave with full pay every three years.

Under the president's proposal, the trimesters would run from September to Christmas vacation; the beginning of January to April, and April to late August. Normal four-year graduation would be accomplished by attending two sessions a year, while a student could graduate in 2 2/3 years by attending all three sessions annually.
